Our 9 Achievable Goals were identified for Griffith to grow and prosper. We will take the necessary steps to see all 9 goals are implemented over the next 4 years.

If Griffith is an attractive place to live and work, industries will invest and grow allowing the community and businesses to reap the rewards, but only if you have committees like Griffith Business Chamber lobbying for growth.

Included in our newsletter is a fantastic document "Griffith Business Prospectus" prepared by Griffith City Council. Please take the time to read about what fantastic opportunities there are for investing in Griffith. Congratulations on producing this comprehensive and compelling snapshot of Griffith's economy.

Mayor's Message

Welcome to the Griffith Prospectus

Thank you for taking a closer look at Griffith City. In doing so you will discover a city unique amongst inland Australian cities in the opportunity it offers.

Griffith is the hub of the Western Riverina, a diverse and rich agricultural region of New South Wales. The major industries are rice, cotton, poultry, almonds, wine grapes, cereal production, manufacturing and food processing.

The district is Australia's largest producer of wine of which half adds to Australia's export revenue. These key industries are supported by sound transport infrastructure, and a diverse skills base drawn from a population that has grown, counter to trend for regional communities, over recent decades. Griffith is also a youthful and culturally diverse population, and this is reflected in an energetic retail and service sector.

With a range of choices in education including University pathways, and a cosmopolitan lifestyle underpinned by a vibrant arts, fine dining and boutique shopping we are certain that you will find Griffith an attractive place in which to develop lives and careers.

Make this brochure your first, but not your only step in investigating Griffith. Talk to our Tourism and Economic Development Team who can further assist you in discovering the opportunities that exist for you and your enterprise in Griffith City and its region.

Economic Drivers
2015/2016

Welcome to Griffith City

Griffith is the regional capital for the Western Riverina and in turn, a major services centre for a range of inland regional towns. With a residential population of 25,681 and a population catchment of 52,016 (ABS, 2011) Griffith draws on its strengths and offers unique lifestyle, employment and investment opportunities. As a strong regional capital Griffith is proactive in promoting economic productivity, creating jobs and achieving positive social outcomes across the region.

“ Griffith draws on its strengths and offers unique lifestyle, employment and investment opportunities ”

Growing Griffith 2030

Griffith City Council has planned for growth which is outlined in its Growing Griffith 2030 Strategic Plan. The Strategy adopts a holistic approach with a focus on optimising land use and urban design and we've made it flexible to accommodate future economic trends and our community's evolving needs and aspirations.

Competitive Advantage

Griffith is the ideal location to invest or relocate! We have the land, labour and water that many new industries can take advantage of, as well as offering an affordable land and residential market for the modern family, singles and retirees.

There is land available in and surrounding Griffith which is ideal for you to move in or lease on the rental market which is achieving strong returns.

Residential values in Griffith are strongly supported by the agriculture and manufacturing industries with Griffith being home to one of Australia's leading poultry producers and a major Australian wine exporter. Combined, these industries employ 4, 704 people, many of which are seasonal positions during harvest and vintage. With the achievement of numerous awards by the wine industry, the reputation of the region's wines continues to grow.

Availability of quality water and irrigation infrastructure is also a great example of why Griffith is the ideal place to invest. Blowering and Burrinjuck dams alone have a combined storage of 2, 654, 000 megalitres which is more than five times that of Sydney Harbour!

Key Growth Sectors

Agriculture

There is no wonder that Griffith is known as the food bowl of Australia with the region producing 75% of NSW wine grapes, 30% of Australia's citrus, 95% of Australia's prunes and being the leaders in poultry production.

In 2014/15 agriculture, forestry and fishing had a total value output of $301m and it was the largest employer generating 2730 local jobs.

Visitor Economy

In 2014/15, the total tourism and hospitality sales in Griffith were $96.5m with a total of 553 people employed in the sector across the LGA. Council's tourism department coordinates marketing and promotional activities, attracts major sporting events providing economic benefits to the city and assists annual festivals and events.

According to Destination NSW (2014) there are 377,000 visitors to the Griffith region on average each year who are spending $96.5 million locally.

Education

We have an education agenda at Griffith. Charles Sturt University, Deakin University and the Riverina Institute of TAFE campuses work with industry to provide the education skills and university pathways into Business, Nursing and Early Childhood. Our high schools also offer vocational education programs that target local skill shortages.

Health and Medical

Griffith is a major centre for medical, dental and hospital facilities with health care and social assistance being the fourth largest employer.

Residents have access to Griffith Base Hospital which is also a training ground for medical students from University of NSW, Wollongong University and the University of Newcastle, and in development is St Vincent's Private Community Hospital and teaching and learning centre which is expected to be completed by August 2016.

Renewable Energy

There are currently two sites at Yoogali proposed for State significant solar farm development which combined could make Griffith a leading renewable energy hub in NSW.

The projects include;

- A 60 megawatt farm consisting of approximately 185,000 solar panels installed on 120 hectares
- A 30 megawatt farm with the ability to generate electricity equivalent to powering approximately 12,000 homes

The Griffith region also presents opportunities for renewable energy from biomass and resource recovery options.

Reach Your Market

Wiggelli Rail Hub and Business Park

Soon to be developed, the Wiggelli Rail Hub and Business Park will not only have a major impact on accessibility for your enterprise to domestic markets, but will have greatest benefit for your export and import business by increasing the freight options available to you.

Griffith City Airport

Regional Express flies from Sydney 7 days per week with several flights each day. Volume at Griffith City Airport is predicted to grow and Griffith City Council has planned for this with the redeveloped airport terminal and resurfacing of the runway with state of the art precision approach path indicator (PAPI) lights.

Opportunity for commercial development

The Griffith City Airport site has spare capacity and strong commercial prospects. The site could house major freight and /or warehousing distribution operations and be a base for pilot training.

Heavy vehicle access

Griffith has both B Double and Road Train access to major markets, distribution and warehousing.

Griffith City Council continues to investigate and apply for staged funding to construct the proposed Griffith Southern Heavy Vehicle Link Road which will provide an alternate vehicle route to the south of Griffith's Central Business District (CBD). The proposed works include 6.3 kilometres of pavement widening and enhancement of existing roads, 5.1 kilometres of road construction as well as intersection treatments, vegetation clearance and utility adjustments.

The bypass will allow the introduction of HML and B-Triple heavy vehicles which currently are not able to traverse due to irrigation structures unable to carry excessive load limits. This will encourage further economic growth in the region with the added ability to service the DA approved Wiggelli Rail Hub and Business Park.

Residential Precincts

Griffith's population is forecasted to increase by 4,477 people over the next decade. As part of the Growing Griffith 2030 Strategic Plan, Griffith City Council has planned for growth by creating more lifestyle spaces to cater for a growing and diverse population.

The suburb of Collina is one of our largest residential housing areas, and is perfect for young professionals, families and retirees. This residential precinct also presents a significant opportunity for further development with Council recently adopting a Development Control Plan for the next phase of land release at Collina.

Land for residential development is also available at Lake Wyangan and at other locations within the City.

Please contact the Tourism and Economic Development team on (02) 6962 8100 if you want to explore these opportunities.

Industrial Precincts

Industry plays a large role in Griffith with manufacturing being the second largest employer employing 17.1% of the local workforce.

There are 13 areas zoned throughout the Local Government Area permitting a mix of light, heavy and general industrial use.

Prominent Industrial precincts include:

Battista Industrial Estate

Griffith's most recent development still has a number of large blocks remaining. The estate flanks the major routes taken to Canberra, Sydney and the Eastern Sea-board.

Mooreville Industrial Estate

On the southern fringe of the city, it houses furniture, motoring, printing and food processing firms as well as steel fabrication and manufacturing.

Hanwood Industrial Hub

Only seven minutes from the CBD this new precinct is home to several large food processing companies and a B Double by-pass to major routes.

Bridge Road Industrial Precinct

This newly established green field industrial site is close to the CBD and major heavy vehicles routes.

Yenda Industrial Precinct

Fifteen minutes from the CBD, the precinct features two large beverage manufacturing companies and is easily accessible by heavy vehicles providing opportunities for industrial growth.

Commercial Precincts

Griffith's retail and service sectors are thriving employing over 2,000 people and servicing a regional population of 52,000.

The commercial property market in Griffith is very reasonable for those who are wishing to relocate or invest. The average retail shop site in Griffith in 2012 was valued at $411,000, in comparison to 1996 where the value was only $217,000.

At present there are a small number of vacancies through the Griffith LGA including the main retail precinct of Banna Avenue and Yambil Street which caters for both high end boutique and family shoppers. Griffith has banking institutions aplenty that provide specialist services to retail, agribusiness and commercial enterprise. The finance sector handles some of the highest profile business clientele in Australia.

There are also two shopping centres, one of which is a $60 million development with National chains providing a focus for the centre.

New developments:

- Quest Serviced Apartments
- Aldi Supermarket
- St Vincents Private Community Hospital Griffith
- Almond Co

All commercial and industrial precincts are fully serviced with reticulated natural gas, and the appropriate electricity and water capacity and infrastructure.

Griffith CBD Strategy

In 2015, Council adopted an ambitious plan that seeks to rejuvenate the city centre of Griffith. The strategy primarily focuses on developing an attractive city centre that people want to visit more frequently and stay for longer periods of time - allowing businesses greater opportunity.

The main recommendations presented in the strategy include:

- Upgrading Kooyoo Street and Yambil Street as inviting areas to walk, socialise and stay
- Redeveloping Neville Place into a civic open garden
- Upgrading Banna Avenue to promote the main street and retail core
- Developing Olympic Park into a major Youth precinct and activity zone
- Redeveloping the Main Canal as a recreational attraction in the city
- Upgrading off street car park to provide a higher level of amenity

It is proposed that $8million be spent in the next six years to see the city centre rejuvenated.

Now that a Council budget is adopted which prioritises the recommendations stated in the Griffith CBD Strategy, it has never been a more exciting time to be in Griffith

For more information, please view the document at the Griffith City Council website griffith.nsw.gov.au/griffithcbdstrategy or contact Nathan Farnell on 6969 8100.
